

David Paiva

CHIEF TRAINER/ CO-OWNER

JACKAL STRATEGIC

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Dave is one of our chief trainers with Jackal Strategic. His diverse background started in the late 80s as an FFL dealer where he sold firearms to both LEO and the general public.

In that time spent building, buying, selling and repairing firearms, a fair amount of time was spent teaching firearms safety to his customers.

When not putting rounds down range for himself he could be found training clients the basics of fundamentals and marksmanship with various weapons.

Dave has served both as a firefighter and EMT and has worked in the special operations branch of the fire service.

He has traveled throughout the country as an instructor and hold multiple certifications with the DHS, DPS, MFA, NRA and OSHA.

His experience and expertise has served both the Bristol County Technical Rescue as a Rescue Technician and board member as well as the Dept. Of Homeland Security as a Rescue Specialist.

He currently operates as a consultant to various agencies, the power generation and pharmaceutical industry and private corporations on their rescue training and safety planning requirements
